factorily resolved some months ago, when he and Bishop made it clear that the telephone company and cable television company were separate and distinct entities. But the conflict of interest issue continues to surface," Morrow said. It was most recently brought up by one of the other companies seeking the Annandale cable franchise.

Morrow informed the council that his participation on the council would be at Apr. 1 meeting. He concluded his letter saying: "Should the opportunity present itself in the future, I would once again most pleased to serve the citizens and City of Annandale."

e mayor and council will have to int a replacement to complete the ining 21 months of Morrow's council Two of the five council members thus be appointed. The other ted council member, Val Lawler, ppointed to complete the final two of Don Figge's term after Figge was mayor.

while, the council has advertised proposals on the cable television e. Discussions with interested mpanies are likely to continue the spring, and the council has that it hopes to award a franchise construction by early summer.
